to the lonely sea and the sky,
And all I ask is a tall ship
and a star to steer her by."

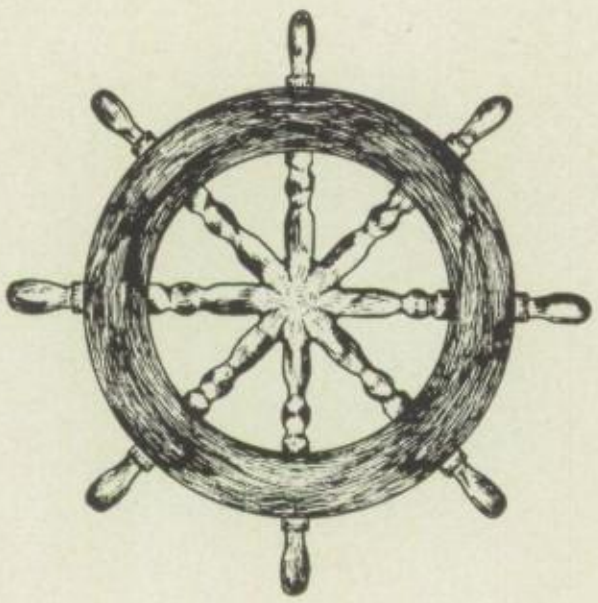
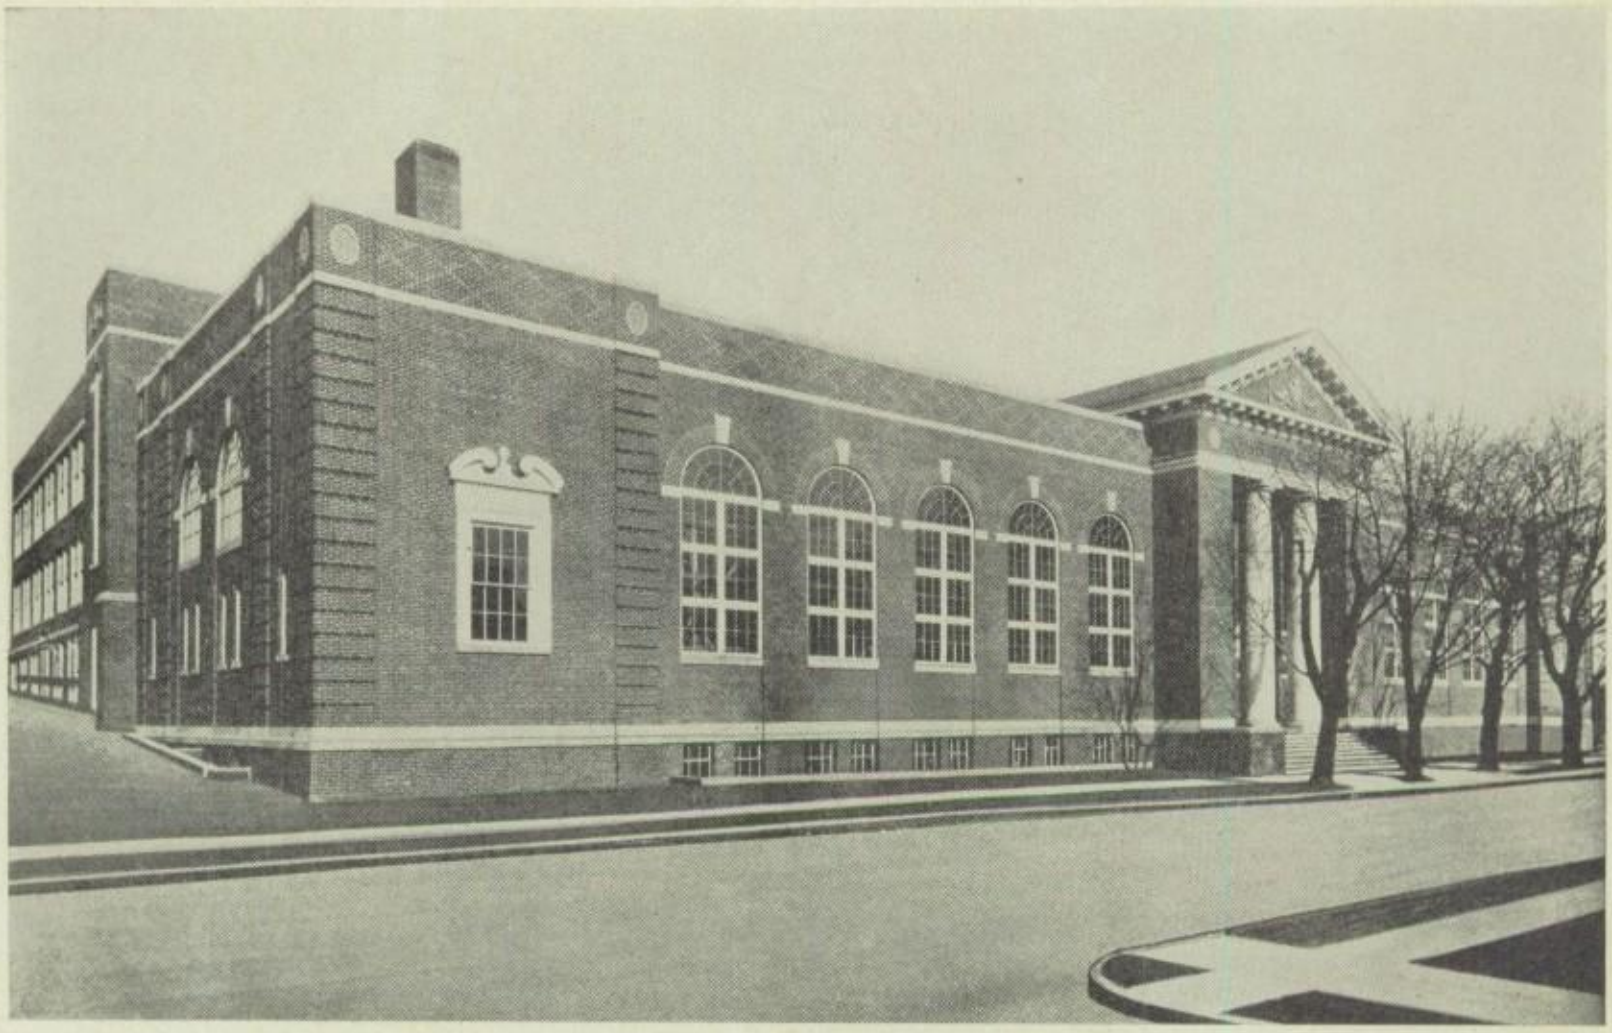
THE ECHO



PUBLISHED BY THE
CLASS OF 1937

CHAMBERSBURG HIGH SCHOOL
CHAMBERSBURG, PENNSYLVANIA



Chambersburg High School

Foreward

May this record of the voyage of the "Ship of '37" be a reminder of our days together as student seamen.

May it be a solace in the days when each of us must steer his own ship.

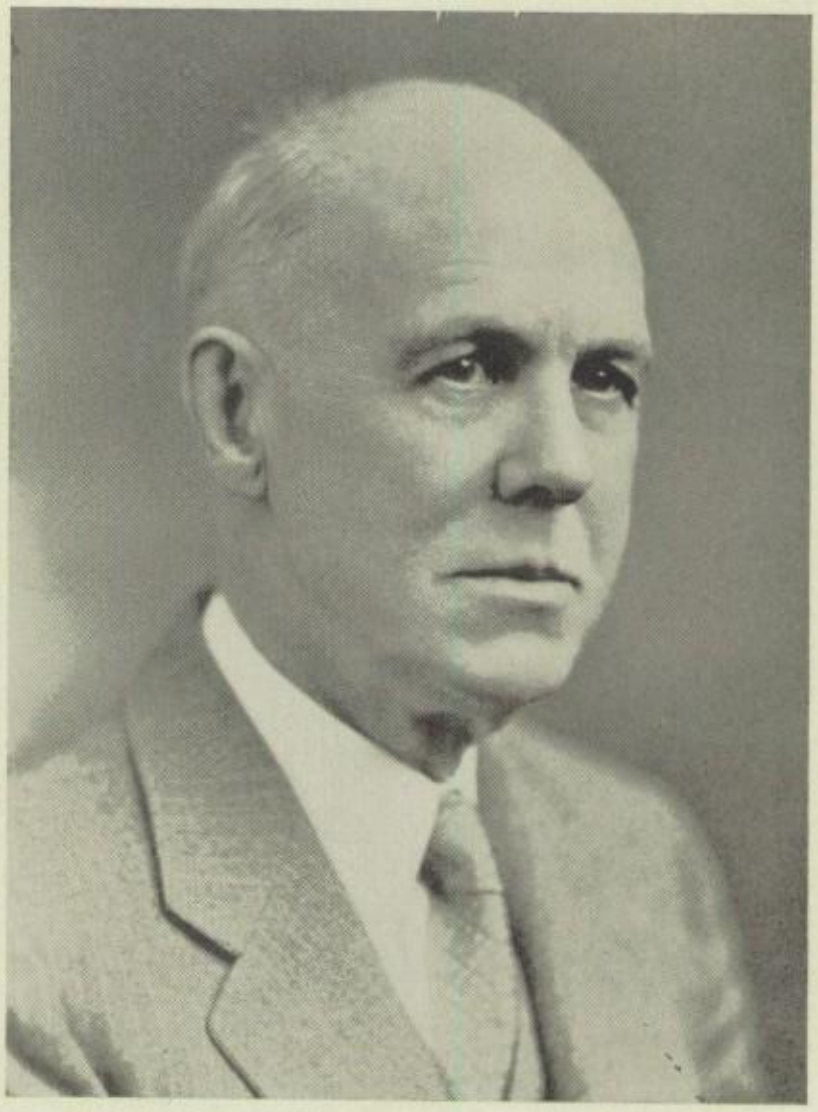
May it be an inspiration to face the storms with courage, to chart the course with wisdom, and to follow through with success.

J. FRANK FAUST

Dedication

Our principal has shown a genuine interest in the members of our class. With his help and advice we have grown; with his assistance we have developed; with his cooperation the "Ship of '37" has completed a successful voyage.

In grateful appreciation we, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-seven, dedicate this, the twenty-third edition of "The Echo," to our friend, Dr. J. Frank Faust.



U. L. GORDY

Class of 1937,
Chambersburg High School:-

When you entered High School and were assigned work to do, each of you had the right to ask, "What good will it be to me?" Some of you may not as yet have been able to answer this question accurately, nor to your own satisfaction.

After an experience of forty years, in Pennsylvania High Schools, including the last twenty years in Chambersburg, my conviction about values in school attendance is pretty thoroughly established. It is a matter of association--nothing more. Have you appreciated the virtues of classmates, teachers, and authors whose books you have read? Did you learn to admire truth as you acquired knowledge in your subjects of study? Were you as careful in giving as it was profitable for you to receive? Will you live on the same high level as long as you live? As I know you, your rank is high in all these questions. In consequence, your High School citizenship has been a great success.

Will you be able to get on well in the world after you graduate? Of course you will. Only stark doubt and fear can defeat you, and these are vices that have no place in an educated person.

Yours very truly,

U. L. GORDY,

Superintendent.

Appreciation

HELEN BEATTIE MOCK

MARGARET E. ECKEL

J. HERBERT SWARTZ

The members of the crew deeply appreciate the friendship and helpfulness of their advisers, who so steadfastly and loyally guided the "Ship of 37" to its destination.

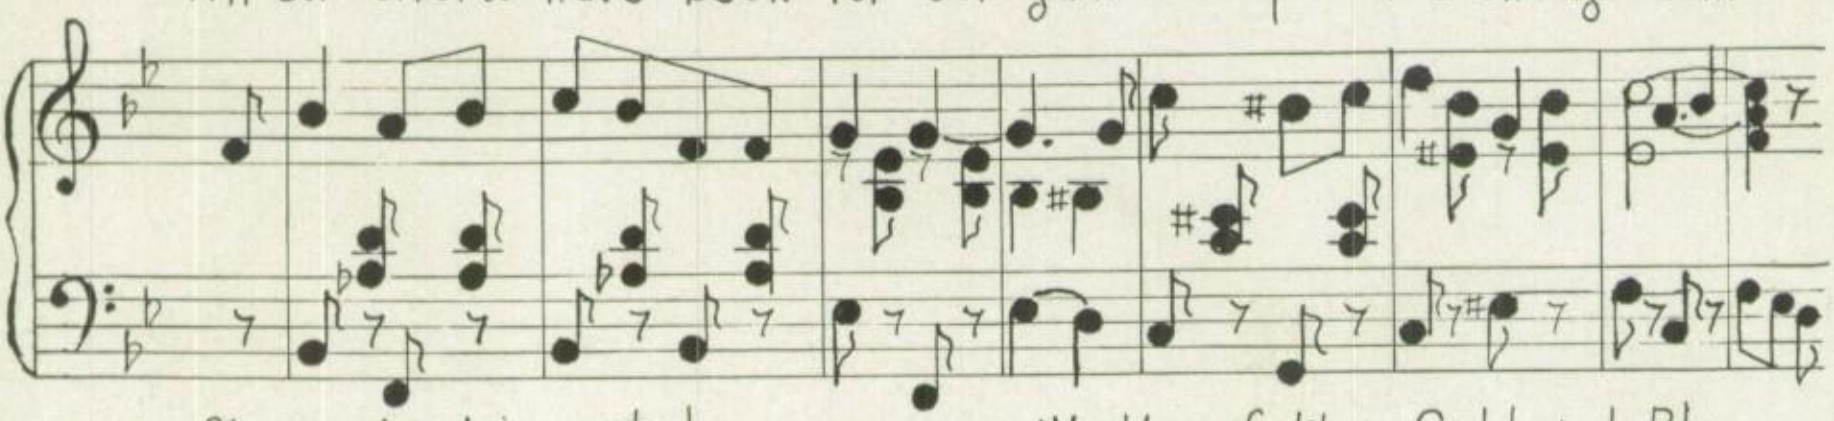
CLASS SONG
'37

George Bitner

John S. Shuman, Jr.

Ah! hail to the ship of thir ty seven — Sailing on the sea so even
For - ev — er cherished in our hearts will be Four gay years upon the sea

Ev-er loy-al steadfast we stand — Ready with a helping hand
All our efforts have been for our gain Now upon the bounding main



Sin-cere-ly striv-ing to become a crew—Worthy of the Gold and Blue
Our love and our service will remain the tie-Thirty seven is the cry.

To sail out with honor is our purpose true From C H S
In mem-o- ry we shall always there hold high Our BLUE and GOLD

'37 Yell

Anchors aweigh! "37"
Starboard—Larboard
Fore-Aft-Hold!
Portside-Leeside
Blue and Gold
Ship ahoy!

Class Colors

BLUE AND GOLD

Log of the S. S. '37

On September 5, 1933, the S. S. '37 set sail with exactly three hundred and twenty-six inexperienced seamen on board. Miss Beattie and Mr. Swartz charted the course well, and it was not long before the ship was cruising at full speed toward its "Manifest Destiny."

Soon after setting sail, the crew became active and lively by participation in the following events:

The first social gathering of the voyage occurred on October 28, in the gymnasium when the Freshmen Hallowe'en Party was held.

The crew starred in football when it defeated the class of '36 by a score of 7-6. This feat had not been accomplished for eight years previous to that time, and it has not been done since.

The Freshmen crew presented itself to C. H. S. on February 2, 1934. This was done in an assembly program in which the officers of the crew were installed. The captain was Eugene Reese.

In May, the first lap of the journey was ended, and the S. S. '37 docked at Sophomore Pier to refuel and take on provisions.

* * * * * *

On September 4, 1934, the S. S. '37 again set sail with each member of the crew wearing one service stripe. They were now sophomores. No more nagging from upperclassmen! No more initiations! October 4 marked the reelection of Eugene Reese as Captain of the S. S. '37.

Log of the S. S. '37

The first big moment of the Sophomore year came when the sailors took charge of decorations for the Upperclass Hallowe'en Party. It was with this event that the crew gained its reputation for unique and beautiful decorations.

In February, 1935, the crew put on a campaign to sell tickets for the operetta Belle of Bagdad.

April 26, Color Day, saw the sailors proudly displaying their new pennants—proof that they were now full-fledged upperclassmen.

The S. S. '37 received its first setback when Miss Beattie announced her engagement. The entire crew knew and loved Miss Beattie, both as a friend and adviser. On May 20, the crew presented her with a "Mix-Master," as a farewell gift.

On May 24 the S. S. '37 docked at Junior Pier to refuel and rest.

* * * * * *

September 3, 1935, found the '37 again setting sail with each member of the crew displaying another service stripe. The crew felt the absence of Miss Beattie deeply; however, this loss was compensated by the appointment of Miss Eckel as adviser.

In November, George Bitner was elected Captain of the crew.

The crew ordered its class jewelry on December 5.

On February 15, a rummage sale was held in the Market House.

As spring approached, the crew began making plans for the Junior Spring Cruise. On March 20, the crew turned the C. H. S. Gymnasium into a replica of the S. S. '37. The effect was so realistic that some of the Freshmen were seasick.

The crew of the '37 presented C. H. S. with a new movie screen on Color Day, April 23.

The biggest project of the voyage of the '37 was undertaken on May 8, when a formal reception was presented to the class of '36 in the Ball Room of the S. S. '37. Music was furnished by Howard Gale's Orchestra.

May 29 found the '37 again docking to refuel for the last time. The Echo Staff was appointed and was headed by Margaret Nixon.

* * * * * *

All Hands on Deck on September 8, 1936, when school reopened. The S. S. '37 set out on the last lap of the journey. The crew, now first class seamen, took on the dignity of Seniors. The Echo started reverberating and much interest was taken in the yearbook.

On September 17, George Bitner was again elected to steer the "Ship of '37."

Football season found the loyal members of the crew selling refreshments at the games.

The crew of '37 presented the School Swing on October 2.

A class meeting was held October 23, and the Christmas Card Sale was introduced.

During December the crew held a contest in selling magazines. The gold team won by a very close margin and premiums were given to the competent salesmen.

On February 4 and 5, the crew of '37 took great pride in presenting Pride and Prejudice.

The crew sighted land on the horizon with the beginning of spring. The S. S. '37 was slowly but surely approaching its goal. The Echo Staff was busy completing its task, and the ship was sailing smoothly.

April 23 came and the "Ship of '37" saw its last Color Day, and on April 30 the Senior Reviews started.

On May 7, the class of '38 gave its reception to the crew of S. S. '37.

On May 13, 14, 17, Senior Examinations were given.

"Land Ho!" the end was in sight. On May 19, 20, 21 the '37 docked to give the crew a last jaunt together in Washington.

Baccalaureate Services were held on May 23.

Just after the sun had set on that memorable day of May the 28th, the S. S. '37 pulled into home port. One hundred and eighty-six seamen presented themselves on deck for Farewell Exercises. Awards were presented, and for the last time together, the crew sang "All Hail to the 'Ship of '37'."

"She walks the waters like a thing of life
And seems to dare the elements
to strife."

—Byron.

Song of '38

Words by Class Song Committee

Music by DAVISON GROVE

1. To our dear class of thirty-eight
   We now this song do raise.
   Our banner gleams with colors bright
   To be honored through all our days.

Chorus:

To the red and the white we promise to be
   Loyal, staunch, devoted, too,
And strive to bring fame to school and to class
   In all we say and do.
The red and white means be brave and pure,
   As the scroll of life unfolds;
Then hold high the torch that blazes the way
   To success that the future holds.

2. Our high school days pass quickly by,
   But mem'ries we will cherish
   Of comrades here and pals so true,
   For our friendship shall never perish.

Song–Class of 1939

Words by Class Song Committee
Music adapted from Ever True to Brown

By Robert Diehl

We're the knights of " '39,"
And we're marching to success.
With our armour blue and gold
We are striving for the best.
To the school we love so well
We will pledge our service fine,
With a RAH! RAH! RAH!
For old C. H. S.!
And the class that will win every time.

And wherever we may go,
With our banner gold and blue,
We will make our High School proud,
For we always will be true.
May we ever loyal be
And may our colors ever shine,
With a RAH! RAH! RAH!
For old C. H. S.
And the glory of thirty and nine!

C. H. S. School Song

Chambersburg High! Chambersburg High!
To honor thee I'll always try,
May never act of mine bring shame,
To dim the brightness of thy name!
Ideals high and purpose fine,
Through all thy daily life do shine;
If we but cultivate thy grace,
We'll never harbor motives base.

CHORUS

Chambersburg, fair Chambersburg High!
All hail to thee! We'll faithful stay,
And try to serve thee every day.
Chambersburg, fair Chambersburg High.

It is thine aim to teach aright,
To give to heart and hand a light
That, trimmed and guarded day by day,
Will bright illumine life's long way.
In every part of this broad earth
Thy sons and daughters prove thy worth.
May I, too, render service fine
And honor thee, O school of mine!

Hi-Y Club

President—Jeryl Overcash
Vice-President—Edwin Hawbaker

Secretary—Robert Sellers
Treasurer—Lee Wible

Advisers—Mr. Shockey
Mr. Fitz

The Hi-Y Club was organized in 1930 for the purpose of creating, maintaining, and extending throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character.

With this purpose as a foundation and the four planks—clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living—as its ideals, the club has rapidly risen to its place as one of the most outstanding in the school.

One of the most worthwhile projects undertaken by the organization is that of the annual Christmas Party, which is given to the needy children of the town. Many of the children included in this treat are those who would in no other way receive any Christmas. In addition to this project, the club has a basketball team, an annual hike in the spring, and enters the Bible Study Contest every year.

New members are elected at the beginning of each school year. This year the club membership totaled a hundred boys. The programs for the first semester were based on the theme "A Clean School Community."

Miss Miller

The Senior Tri-Hi-Y consists of girls from the junior and senior classes. The present membership is one hundred twelve.

This organization, which is a branch of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., has for its purpose—"To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community higher standards of Christian character." Its activities include discussion of moral subjects, social and recreational work. Baskets of fruit were delivered to several needy families at Thanksgiving. Several other projects were performed by the different committees during the term.

The State Bible Study Contest was again conducted in the club as in former years.

Junior Tri-Hi-Y

President—Jane Poffenberger
Vice-President—Marian Glass
Secretary—Marian Smith
Treasurer—Betty Budd Hull

Advisers—Miss Kelley
Miss Heller

This interesting group is our Junior division of Tri-Hi-Y, and consists of one hundred and forty girls from the freshman and sophomore classes. "Pure thoughts, pure words, and pure actions" constitute an ideal we daily try to strive for. Service is the keynote to our activities. We make service as our aim in our homes, our church, our school, and our community. For that purpose we are divided into committees and each one of us has particular duties.

Of course, we too, have our parties, hikes, treasure hunts, and what fun! We hope this year

"To keep our banner floating on high
And prove that we are real Tri-Hi-Y."

Miss Nelson

Resolved: That the Debating Club is one of the most beneficial organizations in Chambersburg High School.

This has been proved many times during the past year by the marked improvement of club members in using good English, planning the proper method of presenting their topic, overcoming nervousness when debating, and applying the essentials of logical argumentation. The club members have received much valuable information through the discussion of various topics of both social and civic nature many of which were suggested by people belonging to the club. At each meeting judges were appointed; thus, the members learned the fundamental principles of judging debates as well as participating in them.

The membership has been larger and this year more successful than ever before in the history of the club, and the members of the Debating Club feel that this progress is largely due to the willing and capable guidance of their advisers, Miss Overcash and Miss Nelson.

Vice-President—Lucille Schleicher
Secretary—Peggy Vanderau
Treasurer—Sara Louise Slaughenhaup

Adviser—Miss Shull

Under the guidance of Miss Shull the Library Staff, now in its thirteenth year of organization, has made the school library one of which to be proud.

The work of the members of this organization is to charge books, mark returned books, magazines, and pamphlets, to mend books, arrange the bulletin boards, in general to make the library as attractive and useful as possible. Credit is given each member according to the amount of work she does.

During National Book Week, which was from November fifteenth to November twenty-first, a display of new books from the local book stores was set up in the library conference room. To arouse interest in reading, several scenes taken from books in the library, were dramatized in assembly on a Friday. In connection with the program a special Book Week edition of the Parrot was devoted entirely to the advertising of both the new and old books.

The Book Club this year is trying to cooperate more closely with the library. Each member of the club has chosen one of the new books that have been put into circulation in the library and by reports on it and dramatization of certain parts of it will endeavor to give it greater circulation.

The Club is also making Clipping books of poems as a project this year. The poems are taken from the magazines and newspapers principally, and some of these are read each meeting.

In these various ways the Book Club is trying to stimulate an interest in books—old and new—and to develop the reading habit.

The Club meets every other Tuesday in Activities Period.

Bon Voyage! La Normandie with sixty passengers set sail for France on September 15, 1936. En route the voyagers and crew took part in singing, games, plays, and conversation, which aided them in learning the French language and customs.

After having docked at Cherbourg, they enjoyed learning more about the people. They visited places such as—the schools at Grenoble, the gay cafes of Paris, the cathedral at Rheims, the fishermen of Brittany, the dress-shops of Lyons, the "playground of the world" at Monte Carlo and Nice, the kitchens of famous French chefs, the paintings of the Louvre, the opera, the theatre, and many others. From their travel they learned more about outstanding characters—Joan d'Arc, Pasteur, Napoleon, Curie, Marie Antoinette, Lily Pons, La Fontaine, and many more.

In order to be real "Frenchy" the visitors enjoyed the sport of bicycling, the peasant dances, "les Soirees," and other amusements. Because of the interest created by the crew-members, several reproduced the customs of France in the forms of a model French village, costumed dolls, paintings, plays and miniature theaters.

Certainly the sight-seers were sorry their tour was finished, and many wish to secure a passport for the next season. "Vive la France."

"Quien no aventura no pasa el mar"

This year Spanish Club boasts sixty-five enthusiastic members, all of whom have studied at least one year of Spanish. The object of our club is to learn more about the customs, music, literature, and art of the Spanish-speaking countries. This year our special theme is "Discovering the Americas," through which we hope to develop a real Pan-American spirit.

Our meetings are held twice a month, and the greater part of the program is conducted in Spanish. This year we hope to learn many interesting things about the Americas to the south of us.

Typical of the Spanish Club of former years the 1936-37 club is showing a splendid spirit of cooperation and friendliness.

Viva La Tertulia!

Vice-President—Marie Yaukey
Secretary—Mary Ellen Greenawalt
Treasurer—Dudley Bloom

Advisers—Miss Huber
Miss Wingert

The Latin Club of C. H. S., which meets the second and fourth Tuesdays of every month, is very much alive. Under the guidance of Miss Wingerd and Miss Huber the Latin Club keeps its high standards; pupils belonging to this club must have a monthly average in Latin of 85. The Club trys as far as possible to present to the members the Roman's mode of living as well as to acquaint each one with the Latin language.

Senior Commercial Club

President—ROY FOGELSANGER
Vice-President—MABEL FORRESTER
Secretary—GLADYS BITTINGER
Treasurer—FLORENCE BRENNER

Reporter—HARRIET BRAND

Adviser—MR. CALHOON

The Senior Commercial Club, as its name suggests, is open only to seniors pursuing the commercial course; hence it is a club having a new membership each year—a new membership which we hope will continue to bring to the club new ideas every year.

The programs and activities of the club are planned with reference to the purposes outlined in the constitution, which are:

(1) To promote interest in the business world and in the study of commercial subjects.

(2) To encourage a social spirit by providing opportunities for wholesome social contact.

(3) To improve the quality of our training for business.

The regular meetings of the Senior Commercial Club were held on the first and third Tuesdays of each school month. Two club parties were held during the year, one in the fall and the other in the spring; both were thoroughly enjoyed.

Science Club

President—EDWIN HAWBECKER
Vice-President—RALPH SHOCKEY
Secretary—CHARLES BENDER
Treasurer—RICHARD HOOVER

Adviser—MR. RHODES

The Science Club is limited to the number of 36 seniors and juniors, and applicants for membership must fulfill certain requirements. The main purpose of the club is to promote a desire for more knowledge in various phases of science; to give greater opportunity for investigation and research.

The activities are many and varied including programs by the members, excursions to places of scientific interest, demonstrations, projects, exhibits, and talks by guest-speakers.

The club meets twice a month in the science room.

Costume Club

President—Lillian Gelsinger
Vice-President—Jeanne Hicks
Secretary—Alice Miller
Treasurer—Ruth Patterson

Adviser—Miss Kish

The Costume Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Kish, is composed of members from the sophomore, junior, and senior classes, who are interested in sewing. The second and fourth Thursdays of each month are the dates set aside for club meetings.

The duties of the club are to render service to the school by making costumes which they may need at any time. For the senior play, Pride and Prejudice, the members successfully made fifteen eighteenth century costumes, besides those for other school activities.

We have done other interesting things such as: designing clothing, studying make-up, and working back-stage.

The Golden Mask

President—Paul Mills
Vice-President—Paul Hoover
Secretary—Geraldine Wingerd
Treasurer—Jessie Keller

Advisers—Miss Collicott
Mrs. Dorr

This year the dramatic club has furthered its study of better drama. Under the leadership of Miss Collicott and Mrs. Dorr the club undertook a series of instructive programs dealing with the various parts of the stage. The study of make-up for the stage and stage lighting and settings were included in the course. In the latter part of the year cuttings from famous plays were selected, casted and acted by the members.

The membership of the club is limited to Juniors and Seniors. At the initiation of the new members in the spring the girls are given corsages and the boys buttonaires.

C. V. F. T. Club

The C. V. F. T. organization was started in 1935 under the direction of Mr. Biecher. The purpose of this council was to elect a Grand Wizard, a secretary, and a treasurer who were to officiate at all meetings. Meetings were to be conducted prior to a hike to be held in the spring. On this hike the members of the first council were initiated by several teachers, who accompanied the group on the hike.

The significance of C. V. F. T. is kept a secret among the club members and is revealed only to those who attend the hike. The first council was under the leadership of the Grand Wizard, George Bitner; secretary and treasurer, Jessie Keller.

In 1936 the meetings of the C. V. F. T. were conducted in practically the same manner as the meetings of the previous year. The officers elected at the first meeting of 1936 were: Grand Wizard, Randall Hanes; Scribe, Davison Grove; Treasurer, Max Shively. The club held its annual hike on June 3, and at this time the new members were officially installed by those who had been initiated in 1935. The officers mentioned above will have charge of the meetings during 1937.

Crafts Club

President—John Elliott Secretary—Melvin Herr

Adviser—Mr. Milnes

The Crafts Club was formed under the supervision of Mr. Milnes. The purpose of the club is to construct properties for the school rooms, plays, and assembly programs.

The members are selected and voted into the organization each year by the veteran members.

Director—Mr. Valentine

Band

Stimulating interest and appreciation of music of high type is the ultimate aim of our Chambersburg High School Band.

Under the direction of Mr. Valentine its seventy members interpret and illumine the themes achieved by the best composers in their various transformations.

With these compositions the band presents assembly programs of a very high quality.

The activities of this organization, besides weekly rehearsals, are centered solely about the school. The band is one of the most active extra-class organizations during the football season, and its absence would be felt very much.

Director—Mr. Valentine

Violins—Louisa Hoover, Janet Nute, Betty Hammond, Devona Ryder, Margaret Renfrew, Dorothea Dennis, Gladys Stockslager, Kermit Wenger, Marvin Dice, Sam Clapsadle, Russell Bixler, Charles Dessem, John Lower, Howard Harrison, Elmer Ashway, James Gilbert.

Saxaphones—Clarence Walters, David Funk, Helen Hovis.

Drums—Charles Bowers.

Piano—Dorothy Lowman.

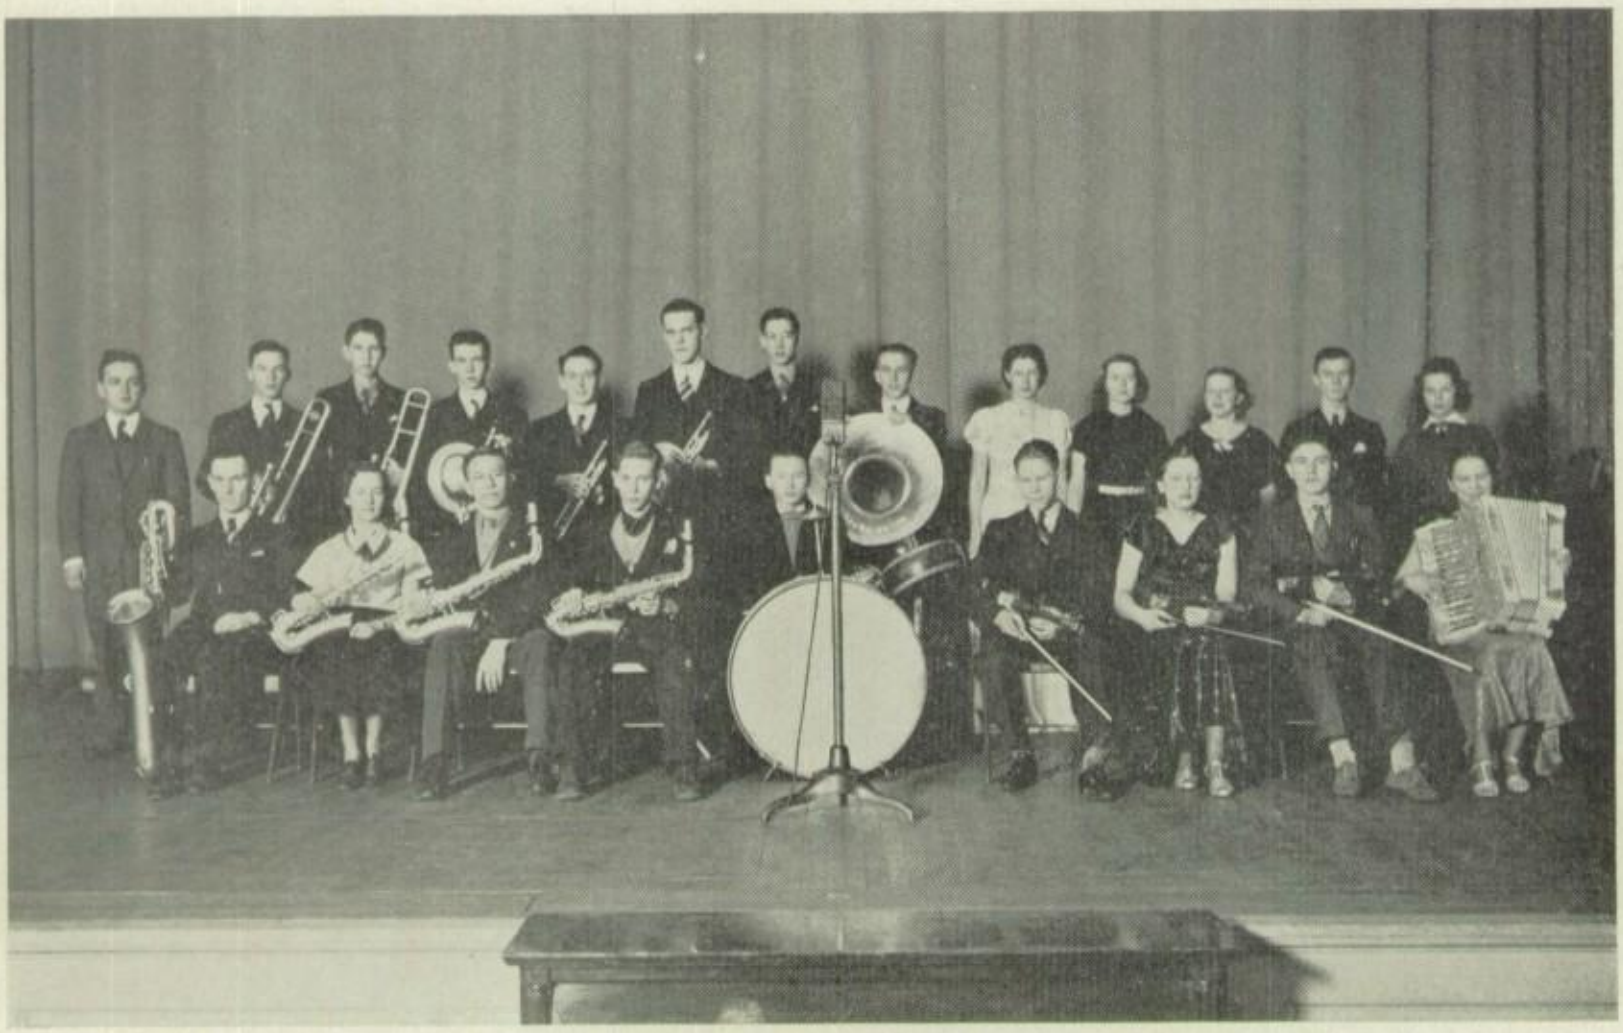
Orchestra

The high school orchestra is under the direction of Mr. Valentine.

The orchestra meets every week for practice and appears as a part of the program in assembly. Because of the quality of its presentations the orchestra is given a definite place among the various program numbers. The orchestra has the distinction of introducing the use of orchestral accompaniment of choruses and dances, besides featuring special musical programs.

Outstanding musical ability of some of the members is recognized by the presentation of original compositions and arrangements as well as solo work.

Any high school pupil is eligible for membership in the orchestra if he can play Grade II music.



Director—Mr. Young

Row 2—Mr. Young, Jacob Snider, Paul Lochbaum, James King, Glenn Angle, Walter Kelley, Clarence Walter, David McFaddin, Harriet Brand, Janet Stoner, Martha Eckles, William Ocker, Gail Holden.

Row 1—David Funk, Helen Hovis, Richard Diffenderfer, John Cann, Charles Bowers, Marvin Dice, Betty Hammond, Harold Harrison, Janet Dice.

Dance Orchestra

For the first time the high school dance orchestra has been made a part of Chambersburg's expanding music program with two weekly rehearsals having one of the music assistants in charge. Since Mr. Valentine was too busy with his other musical activities, the orchestra was assigned to Mr. Young.

It is the largest group organized in the high school playing the popular type of music. Each section is full and complete. The orchestra has played for all the high school dances and a few outside ones. The music department buys the music, and the money made by the organization is put in the music fund.

The members of the orchestra are: rhythm-piano, Gail Holden; drums, Floyd Summers; bass, David McFaddin; Saxes—1st alto, Richard Diffenderfer; 2nd B tenor, John Cann; 3rd alto, Helen Hovis; 4th baritone, David Funk; Brass—1st trumpet, James King; 2nd trumpet, Walter Kelley; 3rd trumpet, Glenn Angle; 1st trombone, Paul Lockbaum; 2nd trombone, Jacob Snyder; violins—Marvin Dice, Betty Hammond, Harold Harrison; accordian, Janet Dice; vocalists—Martha Eckles, Harriet Brand, Janet Stoner; whistler, William Ocker; student leader, Clarence Walter; sound technician, Ned Hawbecker.

Treble Clef

President—Jessie Keller
Vice-President—Marie Yaukey
Accompanist—Gail Holden

Secretary—Janet Oyler
Treasurer—Helen Miller
Assistant—Janet Nute

Adviser—Miss Wiestling

The girls' glee club was organized this year at the request of junior and senior girl students who were unable to take music in the regular classes. The club will be called the Treble Clef thus showing that the members are all girls.

The meetings of this club were held every Tuesday evening from seven to eight P. M. in the music room.

The enrollment of the club is limited to 50 members and only junior and senior girls are eligible.

The dues are used for the purpose of buying music for the exclusive use of the club.

The purpose of the Treble Clef is to give the members a chance to learn good music and to prepare them for programs. The first program of the club was the Christmas program.

Operetta

THE PIRATES OF PENZANCE

By Gilbert and Sullivan

THE STORY

Young Frederic, by a mistake on the part of his nurse, Ruth, has been apprenticed to a pirate instead of a pilot. Ruth thereupon has associated herself as a maid-of-all work with the "Pirates of Penzance." As Frederic approaches his twenty-first birthday when he will be "out of his indentures," Ruth aspires to win his heart. Her plans are thwarted, however, by the arrival of General Stanley's large family of daughters including Mabel with whom Frederic falls in love. The pirates seize the maidens but release them on the Major-General's false plea of being an orphan, as the pirates have sworn "never to molest an orphan."

On his imminent release from the pirate band, Frederic plans to call in the police to destroy the pirates, save the General's family, and win the hand of Mabel. His hopes are suddenly dashed by the Pirate Chief's reminding him that as he was born on February twenty-ninth, he has had only five birthdays and must therefore remain with the pirates for many years, and give up his beloved Mabel. Being the "slave of duty," Frederic acquiesces.

All factions are finally conciliated by their mutual loyalty to the queen and their respect for English "gentlemen" (even though they have gone wrong.) A happy conclusion ensues not only for Mabel and Frederic, but also for the General's daughters and the Pirates of Penzance.

Football Games

SEPTEMBER 26

Starting our 1936 football season just right, the Chambersburg High School football team, last season's Southern Pennsylvania Champions, plunged Biglerville High down to the depths of defeat by a score of 28-0. Co-captained by Ralph Ott and Jerry Overcash and featuring many new players, the team completely outmaneuvered and outplayed a plucky, scrappy bunch of Biglervillagers.

OCTOBER 3

The Trojans lost the first game of the season by being on the short end of a 7-6 score, handed to them by a heavy and hard-fighting Mercersburg squad.

Jaye Overcash scored for Chambersburg and Barlow and Dovey for Mercersburg.

OCTOBER 10

The Trojans downed the Scotland Red Devils 2-0. The only score came in the second period when "Curly" Wenger, varsity guard, broke through Scotland's line and blocked an intended punt which rolled back of the opponents goal line; this automatically gave C. H. S. a safety and determined the game. The squad truly showed their old spirit, each fighting his hardest.

OCTOBER 17

Although fighting for a kill, C. H. S. lost its tilt with the Hershey Industrial School, the score being 12-9, Hershey's favor.

Displaying a brand of good football, the Trojans, however, found themselves outclassed by a much stronger and superior team.

OCTOBER 24

The Blue and White gridders proved that they were really serious about leading that conference by winning the game played with Gettysburg High School's "Little Bullets," with a score of 13-6. From beginning to end the game was a series of tricky shifts and plays on both sides.

Both teams played like well-oiled machines with plenty of reserve power behind them. Jaye Overcash and Ewan between them made thirteen points, while Stock of Gettysburg made the touchdown for Gettysburg.

OCTOBER 31

The hard-fighting C. H. S. Trojan football team nosed out the Carlisle team 7-6. By a 62 yard run Carlisle scored but failed to convert. Following this the Trojans opened up with a heavy barrage, which eventually landed the ball over the goal line. A beautiful placement by Jaye Overcash sent C. H. S. out in front 7-6. The little "Red Devils" came back in the closing minute of the clash, advancing the ball to the six-inch mark, but happily for C. H. S. the game then ended. This victory eliminated Carlisle as a contender for the Southern Pennsylvania Conference Crown.

NOVEMBER 7

C. H. S. lost its last hope of winning the conference when Mechanicsburg High School defeated us 14-0, before a crowd of 3600. Although the Trojans set out with the idea of coming out on top, the M. H. S. team came with the same idea and succeeded. No doubt Hubbard and Westhafter were two large stumbling blocks in the track of the Trojans, Hubbard especially.

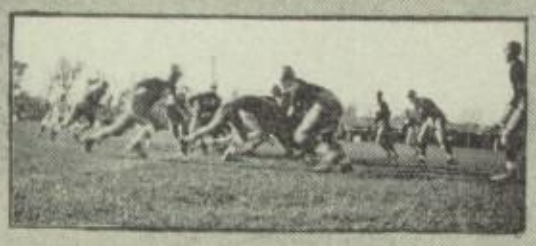
NOVEMBER 21

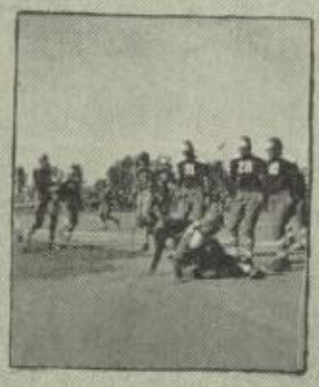
The Trojans won a well-played game from Columbia by a score of 20-0.

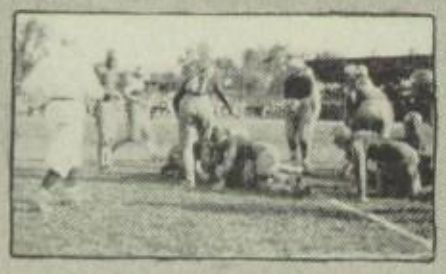
Playing like professionals, the C. H. S. squad ran "wild" in blocking, punting, tackling and passing. Jaye Overcash and Ewan accounted for the touchdowns.

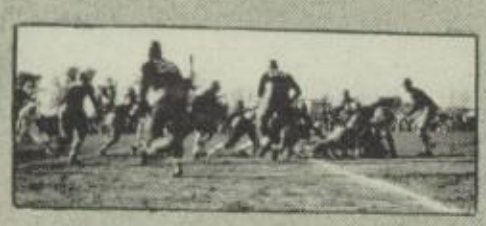
NOVEMBER 26

Playing a brand of Rose Bowl football the C. H. S. team, paced by the Overcash bothers, Jaye and Jerry, catapaulted Shippensburg to the depths of defeat in the annual Turkey Day combat 26-6. The Trojans were complete masters of the game at all times. Such beautiful blocking, running, and tackling was not exhibited by C. H. S. all this season. Many boys realized that this was their last game for C. H. S., and so put everything they had into the clash. Thus C. H. S. closed its fairly successful 1936 football season in a brilliant blaze of glory.









19 SEASON 36

Row 2—Coach Rines, John Knode, Manager, William Wingerd, Harold Martin, Paul Murray, Franklin Ridgely, Reuben Williams, Coach Schlichter.

Basketball

From the standpoint of games won, the 1936-37 basketball season of Chambersburg High School cannot be considered as outstanding a success as previous years. The C. H. S. dribblers won 5 games and lost 12. Probably this was due, to some extent, to the previous graduation of the most experienced players. The team, nevertheless, showed plenty of pluck and fight, but the odds seemed to be against them. However, new prospects were found, and valuable experience was gained, so that the 1937-38 season looks quite promising.

There in the windy flood of morning
Longing lifted its weight from me,
Lost as a sob in the midst of cheering,
Swept as a sea-bird out to sea.

Class Will

We, the class of 1937, enjoying fine health and good times and having excellent mental capacities, make this, our last will and testament, hoping that the manner in which we dispose of the numerous assets and talent of our class will prove satisfactory to all.

SECTION I

We hereby appoint as our executors, Miss Margaret Eckel and Mr. J. Herbert Swartz.

SECTION II

To the faculty we bequeath the fond recollection of our faultless recitations, our accomplishments, and inspirations. With this bequest we also give assurance that we forgive our dear teachers for being the causes of so much anxiety on our part.

SECTION III

To the Class of '38 we bequeath our dignity as Seniors, hoping that they will retain this honorable status and try in every way to uphold all the high standards which we, the Class of '37, have tried to establish.

SECTION IV

We bequeath to the studious sophomores the position of giddy Juniors, hoping that in future years their giddiness will wear off and that they may produce men and women of high mental capacities.

SECTION V

We bequeath to the dear little Freshmen, the privilege to occupy our building for four long years. We hope that in this time they will have outgrown their childish desires of playing with toys and paper dolls and will take an interest in the affairs of the world.

SECTION VI

To the female portion of the Class of '38 we bequeath the windows in Room 3 which have played the part of a mirror for our lovely girls of '37.

SECTION VII

Concerning the personal belongings of the Class of '37 we hereby make the following bequests:

1. Gwen Crawford's studiousness to anyone who can stand it.
2. John Brown's "gift of gab" to Warren Kepner.
3. George Bitner's marvelous executive ability to future class presidents.
4. Joe Wertime's ability to bluff the teachers to anyone silly enough to try it.
5. Ralph Ott's loud shirt to the janitors for a wash-up rag.
6. Russell Bixler's musical ability to anyone talented enough to acquire it.
7. Norman Shoemaker's Auburn to the office for the running of future errands.
8. "Pete" Stouffer's stature to "Bill" White. Maybe a compromise would be better.
9. "Peachy" Miller's sunny disposition to Doris Whiteman.

We, the aforementioned Class of 1937, do hereby write "finis" to our last will and testament and request that any other possessions, useless or otherwise, which we have neglected to distribute, may be cremated and floated down the Conococheague Creek with our dear little Freshmen as escorts.

Epitaphs Found in Davey Jones' Locker

1.—Here lies the body of Harvey Lingle
Didn't have sense enough to stay single.

2.—Six feet below rests Alfred Woods,
Took notes to exams;—got caught with the goods.

3.—Beneath this sod you'll find John West;
He made thirteen in a History test.

4.—Sellers and Bender could forecast the weather;
So they picked out a nice day and were buried together.

5.—You all remember the guy called "Pete,"
At jerkin' sodas he couldn't be beat;
But one day in Home Room he sassed Mrs. Dorr,
And now old "Pete" can't jerk anymore.

6.—"Giggles" was gay, her hair was red,
'Tis here she lies so cold and dead;
It still is a mystery how she died,
But we think the giggling split her side.

7.—Here lies a corpse, we know not who,
But you should be glad it isn't you.

8.—Now for the half-wit who wrote all this junk,
He thought it was funny; we knew it was punk;
But alas to repent for the wrong that he did
He jumped in a casket and nailed down the lid.
So here lies his carcass to rot and decay,
Surely this proves that "Crime doesn't pay."

On Being at Sea

Now personally I have nothing against a mother-in-law. I think my mother-in-law is a grand person. Of course, she does go to extremes occasionally, but I am such a light-hearted, carefree soul that I can tolerate almost anything. To be sure, it never occurred to me that a mother-in-law and her son-in-law might find each other congenial company, especially when confined to such close quarters as a ship for three whole weeks. Naturally when Mother Dear (I always refer to my mother-in-law as Mother Dear, though personally I think the dear is uncalled for) told me that we would go for a short sea voyage, I was highly elated. (Oh, what a fool I was).

To make a long story short, it took only six men and two express trucks (working under the N. R. A.) to take Mother Dear's baggage, packages, etc. (mostly etc.) to the dock. Some kind neighbor had advised her that a handy bottle of So and So's Home Remedy for Seasickness would work wonders for her. Another well-meaning friend reminded Mother Dear not to forget her several dozen kinds of pills and ointments for rheumatic aches and pains. She was, in turn, reminded that the nights on a ship were very cold, hot, moderate, damp, sultry, and rather foggy. It seemed that quite a few people couldn't agree about the nights. Call me a pacifist if you wish, but someone has to give in.

When all of Mother Dear's belongings were stowed away, and I had my tooth brush and socks rolled up in a neat package in my pocket, we proceeded to the dock. For two whole hours I sat cajoling, praying, and pleading. It seemed that somehow or other Mother Dear had got the idea that we were going in a ship like the Normandie or Queen Mary instead of our little 2000 horsepower boat. (That horsepower brought up another argument. Mother Dear decided that she would be towed across no ocean by 2000 horses. Besides, what if the poor horses drowned! No indeed; she hadn't spent ten years on the S. P. C. A. for nothing.)

Finally Mother Dear and I started to walk up the gang plank. I naturally swaggered with the air of a veteran of twenty or thirty years' experience. On the contrary, Mother Dear started grumbling about the poor service. She still didn't know why the captain didn't help her on the ship, why they didn't have an elevator, escalators, or something.

Just as we reached the top of the gang plank, Fizzle (Fizzle was Mother Dear's little pet poodle—"Likable little thing" she called him) jumped out of my arms and proceeded to see if the captain's trousers were really flannel or just imitation. When Fizzle does a thing, he does it well, with the result that the captain did not get chummy and call us by our first names.

From the time we boarded the ship until late that night, everything was in a turmoil. Mother Dear simply couldn't find her pills. Had she remembered to leave a note for the milk man? He would be stupid enough to leave the milk every day, even if there were several hundred quarts on the porch when we returned. Where was Fizzle? Did I think she would get seasick? The Captain said we were going eighty-five knots an hour. Always trying to be funny! Imagine tying a knot in a rope every second. The poor sailors would get dreadfully tired. Did they really keep crows in the crow's nest? I wonder who ever gave them the idea. These questions and a million more drowned out my habitual, "I don't know, Mother Dear."

The next morning I was up bright and early. Being of a rather poetic nature, I stood on the deck and quoted, "Nos fragili vastum ligno sulcavimus aequor." (Yes, I had three years of high school Latin.") As I wandered around the deck, I suddenly came face to face with the Captain. He was very uneasy, for there in his arms Fizzle was cuddled. Just as he was ready to explain, I assured him my love for the dog was no greater than his own. So rapidly getting into passing formation, the Captain passed Fizzle to me. I faded back to the edge of the life boat and heaved a long, low pass to the Captain who in turn lateralled poor Fizzle to Davy

Jones. I often wonder if Fizzle tried to bite poor Davy the first time he saw him. He certainly was one dog who lived up to his name.

I shall always remember the one day of peace and quiet we had aboard the ship. It seemed that Mother Dear was trying to find out what was in the hold. (I still think she had a suspicion that Fizzle was locked in the hold.) She proceeded to investigate and search everything, everyplace, and everywhere. She went through one particular door which led into a very dark room. Just as she passed through, it swung shut, trapping her. (I hope that none of the readers will cast any suspicion in my direction, for I have a perfect alibi.) Well, to sum things up nicely, the Captain and I cheated at a nice quiet game of cards for the rest of the day. After dinner was over that evening, the door opened and there stood Mother Dear, looking like a torpedo with a timing device that had cheated the poor torpedo out of so many minutes that it couldn't wait to explode.

It was that kind of experience that made me sigh with joy when I saw the good old Statue of Liberty again. At least I could get away from Mother Dear on the land. As our ship docked, I noticed four express trucks waiting. That puzzled me, for I had telegraphed for only two. I didn't find out until afterwards that Mother Dear had bought quite a few extra things and had telegraphed for the other two trucks. It seemed that neighbors at home had asked her to bring some "knick-knacks" and souvenirs back to them. Well, Mother Dear had certainly done just that.

When I finally set foot on terra firma, I gave one disgusted look at the ship and left Mother Dear there with luggage, trucks, confusion, and the Captain and proceeded to journey back to the good old pool room where a man's a man and can enjoy himself.

Lightning, Thunder, Rain and–Hail! to the Ship of Thirty-seven

The thunder shook the universe from mountain peak to dell;
The jagged lightning streaked and flashed and lit the depths of hell.
With roars of rage and howls of glee the mighty wind did blow;
It snatched the ocean in its claws; then hurled it high and low.

A billion tons of rain and hail descended from the Heaven,
And in this dreadful storm did sail the ship of Thirty-seven.
Captain Bitner at the helm was shouting orders bold
Despite the fact that he was drenched until his blood ran cold.

Admiral Swartz was right on hand, a spyglass to his eye,
Although he felt deep in his heart he was about to die.
Hawbecker in the wireless room, with headphone to his ear,
Was calmly sending S. O. S.; that boy knew naught of fear.

First mate Higgins, a sailor bold, was on the upper deck
When an extra large wave hit him and neatly broke his neck.
He stumbled, shook, and shivered but laughed just like a clown;—
It takes more than a broken neck to keep old Higgins down.

Our ship was rocked and tossed and jarred until it creaked and groaned;
The mighty ocean pounded it 'till all its timbers moaned.
Each and every one of us was fighting for his life;
'Twould make your very eyes pop out to gaze upon such strife.

Our crew down in the boiler room did keep the engines working,
And even though dead on their feet, yet not a one was shirking.
Hamsher, Myers, Hicks, and Reese worked with all their might;
Hafer, Foreman, Rowe, and Rhodes fought the storm all night.

All the girls were helping too, nary a one did pout;
Brave Miss Eckel grabbed a pot and cooked us sauer-kraut.
This gave us added energy, and with our spirits high
We steered our ship right through the storm, our pennant in the sky.

The tempest made one last attempt to send us to our death,
But Lo! Behold! What happened next completely took our breath.
Like music from a heavenly choir, their rose above the din
A sweet melodious refrain—'twas Bixler's violin.

As music soothes the savage beast, just so, that sweet refrain
Changed the horrid, hideous storm into a gentle rain.
Our gallant crew and sturdy ship had licked the raging storm.
Here's to you, "Thirty-seven,"—keep sailing true to form!

Good-bye, High School, though sometimes our conduct was fearful,
Good-bye, High School, the four years with you have been cheerful.

Despite the fact that we
Called you our enemy,
We know that you will be
Forever in our memory.

Doc. Faust, our pal, has helped us develop our brains,
His friendly smile brought sunshine and drove off the rains.

But now the time has come for us to say,—
